GRAND JURY TO PROBE FLOYD COLLINS CASE

NEWSPAPER MEN HINT ALL IS NOT WELL AT CAVE CITY

OR THAT HE HAS BEEN MUR-DERED, OR THAT HE HAS DISAPPEARED

(By United Press)
Cave City, Ky., Feb. 9.—A grand jury probe into the mysterious circumstances surrounding the imprisonment in Sand Cave of Floyd Collins will be started today.

J. Lewis Williams, county prosecutor, announced at his home in Glasgow that the probe will be pushed vigorously.

Detectives will be sent here today to start accumulating evidence as well as to take testimony from newspaper men and state officials who have amassed material indicating the case merits an official investigation. County Attorney Williams will start work on three theories:

1. That Floyd Collins was inveigled into voluntary imprisonment in order to create a public sensation to bring capital and tourists to his newly discovered cave.

2. That Collins was murdered after he had been placed in the cave.

3. That Collins while he may have been in the cave for some days, is no longer there and has disappeared through a rear exit to some other hiding place in the hills honey-combed with caverns like that in which he has been for ten days.

4. That one of the chiefs in the preliminary rescue work before the state took charge deliberately side-tracked food and water so that Collins would die.

Williams' announcement created a sensation when it was told to Brigadier General H. H. Denhart who is in personal charge here.

Governor William J. Fields is leaving as soon as possible to come here and take complete charge of the investigation and rescue work, he asserted at his home.

Newspaper men were the first to suspect all was not well at Sand Cave where Collins was imprisoned a week ago Friday, according to reports told.

They were first made suspicious by the fact that a leader in early operations who posed as a close friend of Collins is in reality his bitter enemy and had absolutely refused to permit five hard rock miners and experienced cave men to go into the pit and rescue him.

After that he consistently refused to go into the pit with a rescue party unless he was in the lead, blocking with his body all access to the imprisoned man. He is the only man who has seen Collins since he was imprisoned. He says he went down over the last slight drop and underneath the boulder where Collins is imprisoned.

Another local story of the investigation was that a syndicate of three men had been organized to invest in the cave as a scenic attraction.

BELIEVE COLLINS IS STILL ALIVE

At the Mouth of Sand Cave, Ky., Feb. 9.—Floyd Collins was still alive today after 10 days in his underground prison, according to reports on radio tests.

Amplifiers were attached to the electric wires which illuminate a bulb placed on Collins' chest. Through amplification of the vibration of the light filament listeners were able to count his heartbeats.

STATE AND COUNTY LAUNCH SEPARATE PROBES

At the Mouth of Sand Cave, Ky., Feb. 9.—The state of Kentucky and Barren county launched separate probes today to get to the bottom of reports that the entombing of Floyd Collins here is a hoax.

While corps of rescue workers continued their laborious probes of the cave's depths and the sinking of a shaft to his prison, Governor W. J. Fields ordered Brigadier General H. Denhart, in charge of operations,

(By United Press)
New York, Feb. 9.—Fog gripped New York City and harbor today, causing a tangle of shipping and at least three crashes on elevated lines, in which two lives were lost and many persons injured.

A motorman and a passenger were killed and at least 50 persons injured when two subway trains and an elevated train were in a simultaneous collision on an elevated structure in the Bronx today.

Rail and street traffic was delayed as the fog of early morning was so thick it was impossible to see 100 yards. Thousands were delayed in getting to work, trains and motor cars creeping at a snail's pace.

In widely separated sections of Greater New York elevated trains collided and were wrecked. The most serious of these was in the Bronx.

Incoming ocean liners were held outside Ambrose Channel Lightship. All river and harbor craft that moved, did so with extreme caution and a great blare of sirens.

St. Paul, Feb. 9.—The rush for auto licenses began today at the state Capitol.

By 11 a. m. the corridors were jammed with motorists seeking application blanks.

It was estimated that several thousand would be accommodated during the day.

here, to establish a military court of inquiry.

The court martial, according to Fields' orders, will take the sworn testimony of five persons who claim to have seen Collins as he lay trapped in the cave and of other persons who claim to be familiar with the situation.

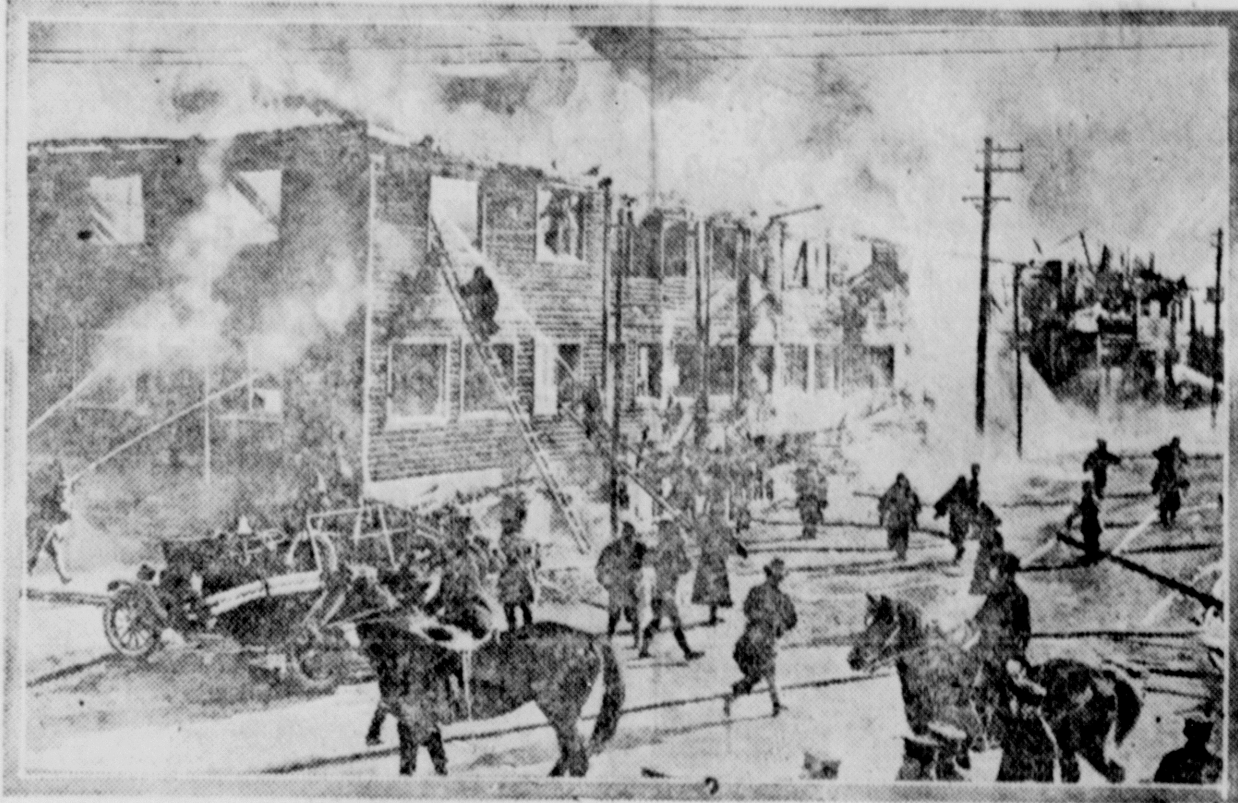

The inquiry will be public, Fields announced.

He keenly regrets, the governor said in his statement, the "unfortunate" newspaper dispatch issued today giving the impression that Collins is not entrapped.

"I am reliably informed that five persons saw Collins as he lay fast in the cave."

The Barren county probe was instituted today and is in the form of a grand jury investigation launched by J. Louis Williams, county prosecutor.

Most of the 1924 crop of grain and hay, three barns and some livestock were destroyed by the blaze.

Robert Trams Seymour, an inmate, suffered severe injuries when he was kicked by a horse as he was trying to save the animal. His condition is not serious.

According to officials, Robert Carsons, an inmate, is said to have made his way into the buildings unobserved and set the fire. When the flames were first noticed by a watchman, they had gained so much headway the volunteer firemen of the institution could do little in efforts to extinguish the fire.

(By United Press)
Chicago, Feb. 9.—Calmly and without showing a trace of emotion Ray Gillan, 16-year old negro, today told police in detail why and how he clubbed Edward Schmidt, white boy of 16, to death.

"I was afraid he was going to tell of the things we had done, and I would rather die than go to the reform school," Gillan said. "so I killed him."

Schmidt was the state's principal witness against Gillan, who is charged with several robberies. Schmidt was Gillan's partner in these depredations and had confessed and turned state's evidence. Gillan's case was to have been heard today.

Sunday afternoon Gillan told Schmidt he knew where a lot of valuables were hidden and led his companion to the lake shore.

"I took a heavy club along and told him where to dig," Gillan told police. "When he bent over I hit him on the back of the head. I hit him several times, and then felt of his heart to make sure he was dead. After that I dragged him down out of sight."

The body was found under several logs by two boys. Police arrested Gillan on suspicion and he confessed.

SUBJECT

PLAN IS OUTCOME OF 2 YEARS'
WORK BY INTERIM COM-

St. Paul, Feb. 9.—Both houses of the state legislature today received bills providing for re-organization of the state government as outlined in the recent report of the interim committee.

The measure was introduced in the house by Representatives W. I. Norton, Minneapolis, O. K. Dahle, Preston, and J. B. Gislason, Minnesota, and in the Senate by Senators C. H. Representative Spindler is preparing a bill covering a minority report of which he is author.

It is probable that a joint hearing will be held later this week on the senate and house civil administration committees, of which Representative Dahle and Senator McKenzie are chairmen.

The chief features of the interim committee's report are establishment of twelve state departments headed by an executive department of which the governor is chief, a budget department, and a civil service bureau.

Consolidation and centralization of many activities and reduction of the membership of boards also is provided.

Experts will study the offer made in a note from the chancellor of the exchequer Saturday. After that Herriot and Clemental will cross the Channel for personal negotiations with Churchill and Baldwin.

While the French cabinet cautiously greeted Churchill's offer as a friendly proposal, they set about digesting its slightly ambiguous phraseology. The Paris press was somewhat skeptical.

The morning papers pointed out that it is not made clear if the Allies must pay Great Britain in the event that Germany defaults under the Dawes plans.

7 WITNESSES QUESTIONED BY
STATE LEGISLATIVE COM-

All testified as to the values of lands in Clay county.

None of the witnesses were borrowers from the Bureau, Senator C. A. Lund, chairman of the committee, said, but all are familiar with agricultural land values in that district.

The sub-committee named to visit Pennington county will leave for Thief River Falls probably today, it was said.

A number of loans made in Pennington county are under fire as the result of the recent report of Garfield W. Brown, state public examiner, on the audit of the credit bureau accounts and records.

STATE LEGISLATIVE COM-MITTEE

(By United Press)
St. Paul, Feb. 9.—Seven witnesses were questioned this afternoon by the state legislative committee investigating the Minnesota rural credit bureau.

All testified as to the values of lands in Clay county.

None of the witnesses were borrowers from the Bureau, Senator C. A. Lund, chairman of the committee, said, but all are familiar with agricultural land values in that district.

The sub-committee named to visit Pennington county will leave for Thief River Falls probably today, it was said.

A number of loans made in Pennington county are under fire as the result of the recent report of Garfield W. Brown, state public examiner, on the audit of the credit bureau accounts and records.

J. C. DAVIS FUNERAL
TUESDAY AFTERNOON

Will be Under the Auspices of Aurora Lodge of Masons, of Which he Was Long a Member

ALSO MEMBER OF A. O. U. W.

He Had Been Ailing Since Last Summer, But Only Recently Took to His Bed

The funeral of the late James C. Davis will be held on Tuesday afternoon, at three o'clock from the Masonic parlors, under the auspices of Aurora lodge, No. 100, A. F. & A. M., of which he had long been a member. Interment will be made in the family plot in Evergreen cemetery. The body will lie in state at the hall from 10 o'clock until the hour of the funeral.

Mr. Davis was born in Salem, Virginia, December 18th, 1860. He came to Brainerd in 1880, and has lived in this city ever since, being under the continuous employment of the Northern Pacific railway. At the time of his death he was paint foreman in the tank shop.

Mr. Davis was united in marriage in 1883 to Miss Hattie C. Welch. Four children were born to this union, two of whom are living, being Mrs. Cora B. Stuckney, of Brainerd and James C. Davis, Jr., of Spooner, Wisconsin.

In addition to being a member of the Masonic order, Mr. Davis also held membership in the A. O. U. W.

The deceased had been ailing since last summer, but it was only a week ago that he was compelled to take to his bed. Heart trouble with complications is given as the cause of death. He was a man of many excellent qualities, and besides his family leaves a large circle of friends to mourn his passing.

The Dispatch joins in extending sincere sympathy to the bereaved family.

For Commerce

The St. Lawrence deep waterway seems destined to go through because it would pay for itself as a power project, though the New York route is obviously a possible substitute. But eventually the country is likely to have and use both. It can not be that the present apathy regarding inland water transportation will continue much longer in a great populous country with a vast commerce to transport.—Kokomo, Ind. Dispatch.

Attorney General Stone has recently issued an order to all district attorneys to the effect that hereafter all confiscated liquor must be disposed of immediately after the courts decree its confiscation. This is done in an attempt to check the leakage from seized stocks in storage.

Real "Dogs of War"

The saying, "Let loose the dogs of war," once had a meaning. In the Middle ages dogs were sent out toward the cavalry of the enemy with kettles of burning resin on their backs, the odor, smoke and flame of which naturally excited the horses. A stout jacket of leather underneath the kettle protected the dogs in case the hot resin was spilled.

WELFARE BOARD

Annual Report for Year Ending December 1924 is Submitted to Public

REGIONAL CONFERENCE HELD

Former Secretary Cooperated With Red Cross Disaster Relief Committee

The Crow Wing County Child Welfare Board's annual report for the year ending December, 1924, as compiled by its secretary:

	Current Jan. 1, '24	New	Recurrent	Closed	Current Jan. 1, '25
Adoption	3	2	2	3	4
County Allowance	22	22	0	16	28
County Allowance Application	4	11	0	5	10

Reference calls	485
Office calls	436

Letters sent	555

I thought figures showing the way cases have been distributed throughout the year might be of interest to the public and have, therefore, worked out the above report.

There have been six complaints alleging paternity filed during the past year, arrangements made for the care of six unmarried mothers and 23 new unmarried mothers brought to our attention and under our supervision. Four feeble-minded persons have been provided with institutional care and three committed to the custody of the State Board of Control. Three children were committed to the State Public School, two girls to Sauk Center, one blind girl provided with care and two children at the School for the Deaf. Three men were sentenced on criminal knowledge charges and three others are under indictment for abandonment.

During the month of May a Regional Conference was held, the counties of Aitkin, Morrison, Wadena and Crow Wing participating. This was most successful. The former Secretary cooperated extensively with the Red Cross Disaster Relief Committee following the mine disaster in February. A survey of school conditions with a report at the State Conference was planned for last spring but due to the illness of the Secretary and a change in personnel, it was impossible to make a thorough survey and the Secretary was only able to report at the Conference from statistics gained from the County Superintendent of Schools and the teachers who were most cooperative.

The Board's report for January follows:

	Current Jan. 1, '25	New	Recurrent	Closed	Current Feb. 1, '25
Adoption	4	0	0	0	4
County Allowance Application	10	2	0	2	10

Attended one District Court hearing to establish paternity, one delinquency hearing in Juvenile Court and one insanity hearing in Probate Court. We expect to be able to establish paternity in another case this month.

Talked to the Deerwood Parent-Teachers association.
The month's report indicates one new and one re-current unmarried mother cases. These girls are Crow Wing county girls but did not come to our attention directly. They have been referred from other counties where they have gone for care but will come back to us later.

I have made two investigations just across the line, one in Cass and one in Mille Lacs county. One case is an unmarried mother and the other a delinquency investigation. The Girls' Home School has asked assistance in locating several girls and one other county has written for assistance in locating a girl on probation.

A neglect case appealed from Probate Court and carried over two times, has again been continued to the next term and the family left under our supervision. Conditions are improved over what they were when the children were removed from the custody of the parents but could still be much bettered.

WILBUR COBB PROGRAM LEADER

Last Week Alfred Dillan, Secretary of Y. M. C. A., Joined the Local Luncheon Club

Tomorrow, being the last meeting before Lincoln's Birthday, the main part of the program of Brainerd Rotary will be devoted to eulogizing the great emancipator. Wilbur Cobb has charge of the program and he has assured fellow members there will be no hypothetical questions to answer in hypothetical minutes, as occurred the meeting previous.

Vice President John F. Woodhead presided last meeting. A. C. Mraz entertained with a group of songs, his accompaniments being played by Mrs. Walter F. Wieland. City Attorney Harry Fullerton, who had just returned from attending a meeting of the League of Municipalities of Minnesota told of the meeting and benefit derived.

FISH ARE DYING

Natural Fish Hatchery in Gull River Serves as Tomb for the Fish

HARRY B. VAN SICKEL'S TALE

Is Resident on West Side of Gull River and Tells Conditions to Dispatch

Thousands of fish in the natural fish hatchery in Gull river, between the Gull lake dam and the Stoner dam on the Crow Wing river, are dying under the ice, according to Harry B. Van Sichel, who lives on the west side of Gull river, and who was a Brainerd visitor Saturday.

Mr. Van Sichel states that the cause of this serious condition is the fact that the power company, owning the Stoner dam, has opened this dam and let all of the water out. This has lowered the water level in Gull river from six to eight feet, with the result that there is no water running in the stream, the Gull lake dam being closed entirely.

The fish are therefore trapped in water holes along the river and thousands of them are dying for want of air. If the water were running there would be plenty of air under the ice, but as it is now the fish are suffocating for lack of air, according to Mr. Van Sichel.

Gull river is in many places a mile wide, due to overflowage, and all along the stream are pockets or holes, where the fish are now trapped. Mr. Van Sichel states that he cut holes in the ice in several of these pockets, and the fish seemed to swarm to the opening, crowding each other in an attempt to get air. He estimates that practically all of the black bass, pike and other game fish will be killed unless something is done at once to get water started running through Gull river again.

The state game and fish department has designated the river just below the Gull lake dam as a natural fish hatchery and will in the spring erect necessary buildings and install equipment for conducting the hatchery. Anyone fishing in this natural hatchery, is subject to arrest and fine, says Mr. Van Sichel, but thousands of fish are now being allowed to die, without any action being started. He believes that water should be started over the government dam at Gull lake to sustain the fish life.

The power company allowed the water to be lowered in its dam on the Crow Wing river in order that it might put in a new apron and make a number of necessary repairs, it is said, and the low water condition will probably prevail for several months until this work is completed. A large crew of men is at work on the repairs. In the meantime, Mr. Van Sichel and a number of other sportsmen are deeply concerned as to the welfare of the fish life in Gull river.

SHERIFF AND FEDERAL AGENT MAKE EIGHT ARRESTS AT STAPLES

Eight alleged law violators were arrested Friday when County Attorney Wood, Sheriff Burns and Peter Horn, a federal agent, assisted by our local police, made a series of raids. The federal agent swore to the complaints in each case, we understand.

The Robert Robertson place on the South side, Staples, was raided and officers claim some evidence was obtained. The prisoner waived examination and was bound over to the district court and the grand jury will hear the case. J. B. Hendrickson, an old offender, was again arrested and, we understand, signed a petition to go before the district judge and plead guilty. Frank Wainer, one mile southeast of Staples, was found, it is alleged, in possession of about six gallons of moon. He also admitted his guilt at once. Wm. Swart of the South side was raided and admitted a nuisance and paid a $75.00 fine in Judge Clary's court. L. L. Hubble, South side, was caught with a still and preferred also to go right to court and tell it to the judge. Geo. Leu, one mile south of town, was caught with a still and moon, according to the officers. He also signed a willingness to sign a petition to go at once before the district court and admit his guilt.

Robert Knossalla, south of town, was caught with several gallons of strong evidence and also signed a petition to admit his guilt and take sentence.

One woman, Lizzie Bicmusa, was also caught with a large still. She lives in the Knossalla neighborhood and, it is claimed, was doing a regular wholesale business. She with the others, signed a petition to plead guilty before district court.

For some months, Staples has been overrun with moonshiners and the officers have been securing evidence and the raid Friday was the result of the evidence which has been piling up. Several similar places were known to exist in Wadena county but our county attorney and sheriff do not invade other counties, but no doubt they will be picked up soon. Sheriff Burns is doing good work and with the hearty cooperation of County Attorney Wood is making it terribly annoying to law violators in Todd county.—Staples World.

The Crow Wing County Child Welfare Board's annual report for the year ending December, 1924, as compiled by its secretary:

I thought figures showing the way cases have been distributed throughout the year might be of interest to the public and have, therefore, worked out the above report.

There have been six complaints alleging paternity filed during the past year, arrangements made for the care of six unmarried mothers and 23 new unmarried mothers brought to our attention and under our supervision. Four feeble-minded persons have been provided with institutional care and three committed to the custody of the State Board of Control. Three children were committed to the State Public School, two girls to Sauk Center, one blind girl provided with care and two children at the School for the Deaf. Three men were sentenced on carnal knowledge charges and three others are under indictment for abandonment.

During the month of May a Regional Conference was held, the counties of Aitkin, Morrison, Wadena and Crow Wing participating. This was most successful. The former Secretary cooperated extensively with the Red Cross Disaster Relief Committee following the mine disaster in February. A survey of school conditions with a report at the State Conference was planned for last spring but due to the illness of the Secretary and a change in personnel, it was impossible to make a thorough survey and the Secretary was only able to report at the Conference from statistics gained from the County Superintendent of Schools and the teachers who were most cooperative.

The Board's report for January follows:

ST. CLOUD TAKES STOCK OF ITS DEPARTMENTS

ST. CLOUD is engaged in a complete check-up of all its departments. The first to be inventoried is its fire department. It is to be gone about in the most thorough manner.

While recently conferring with Commissioner of Public Safety J. M. Clancy of St. Paul, Mayor Benson was able to secure the services of Captain John A. Nelson of the St. Paul fire department.

Captain Nelson, according to the St. Cloud Daily Journal-Press, will check over all apparatus of the St. Cloud fire department and the fire houses, as well as inspect all equipment. He will make an intensive study of the equipment needs of the city and make recommendations. He will also inspect hydrants and pressure tests, and the present alarm system.

In addition, the captain stays at the fire barn during his check-up and makes all runs with the department. Of course, this will give him an intimate, first hand view as to St. Cloud's methods in fighting fires. He will report on the competency of every member in the department.

This last point is a most interesting one. Many towns have had check-ups of their equipment, but nobody, so far as we know, has ever given the men an inspection.

The fire department of St. Cloud is the first of its various departments to receive a thorough check-up. There is no reason for any one given examination, according to the mayor, and no charges of inefficiency have been made. It was deemed advisable, however, due to the growth of the city during the past few years, to completely analyze the city departments, to find out whether or not they are keeping pace with the added demands upon them.

COOLIDGE'S TRIBUTE TO LINCOLN

WHEN President Coolidge was governor of Massachusetts in 1919 he issued a proclamation asking Lincoln Day be observed, and paid this eloquent tribute to the martyr president.

Five score and ten years ago that Divine Providence, which infinite repetition has made only the more a miracle, sent into the world a new life, destined to save a nation. No star, no sign, foretold his coming. About his cradle all was poor and mean save only the source of all great men, the love of a wonderful woman.

When she faded away in his tender years, from her deathbed in humble poverty she dowered her son with greatness. There can be no proper observance of a birthday which forgets the mother. Into his origin, as into his life, men long have looked and wondered. In wisdom great, but in humility greater, in justice strong, but in compassion stronger, he became a leader of men by being a follower of the truth. He overcame evil with good. His presence filled the nation. He broke the might of oppression. He restored a race to its birthright. His mortal frame has vanished, but his spirit increases with the increasing years, the richest legacy of the greatest century.

Men show by what they worship what they are. It is no accident that before the great example of American manhood our people stand with respect and reverence. And in accordance with this sentiment our laws have provided for a formal recognition of the birthday of Abraham Lincoln; for in him is revealed our ideal, the hope of our country fulfilled.

WE WANT GOOD ROADS

WE all want good roads and at the same time retrenchment and reform in state expenditures, is the way the Hopkins Enterprise sums up the situation. As the Enterprise sees it, the majority of our people are either car owners or passengers in automobiles that must travel over our state highways, and to put a stop to the highway program that has been laid out by our efficient public road officials, the establishment, grading and paving of Minnesota's trunk highway system, is not the wish of the majority. They want the good roads.

Minnesota's tax is less than the average paid the country over, and with gasoline tax added will be less than a personal property tax would be under the old system of taxation. Let us think well before we take a backward step in our highway construction. In these days of progress, it is the road that makes the state, and we all want good roads.

WARM WEATHER NO AID TO MINNESOTA IN WINTER

CONTINUED warm weather in Minnesota's crop sections is viewed askance by the farmers. It may cause the sap to run in fruit trees, and alternate warmth and freezing can ultimately check or crack a tree trunk and ruin the tree.

Warm weather reduces the snow mantle protecting winter grains. Obliteration of the snow covering endangers winter rye, winter wheat, alfalfa, etc.

No, in the interests of agriculture, give us a regular winter with snow and approved cold weather, even if it does make a run on our coal bin.

THIS story is going the rounds. A Pennsylvania paper, just the day before the reputed end of the world was due, urged all the folks who owed it money to "come across," saying if the world was to end that night the editor did not want to run all over hell to make his collections.

THERE are times when Paris fashions are not supreme. The long skirt failed to become popular in American, and for the third successive season the Paris picture hat has also gone on the rocks. Women with bobbed hair do not care to wear large hats.

HUNDREDS of men die unseen, but when the hand of publicity records the terrible plight of Floyd Collins, imprisoned in a cave at Sand Cave, Kentucky, a nation becomes interested and a state superintends his rescue.

MINNESOTA BOASTS
10,000 LADY FARMERS

Minnesota boasts 10,000 lady farmers, according to data analyzed by the Blue Valley Creamery Institute. Of this number over 6,000 operate farms, 5,000 their own, 11 as managers and not quite 40 as tenants, the data disclosed.

Dairying, poultry and hog raising are some of the branches of agriculture in which the women farmers of the state specialize, the analysis revealed. The land under cultivation by the feminine agriculturists is close to 850,000 acres, of which 580,000 acres are improved. The value of these farms is 90 million dollars. The figures further revealed that women cultivate 3.1 per cent of all farms in the state and 2.8 per cent of the total acreage, the value being 2.7 per cent of the whole. The average value of the land and buildings on farms operated by women was found to be in excess of $16,000.

Commenting on the large percentage of women who go in for dairying and poultry raising, the Institute sees a peculiar adaptation of these occupations to the feminine nature. From early times, it says, the average farm woman has had to care for the milk and act as dairy-maid, too. And milking cows and selling butterfat with its requirements of close attention to details seems to be a type of work that woman naturally takes to. The same appears to hold true for poultry raising. For pin money for the thousand and one items needed in the home, the sale of eggs and poultry and cream has ever been known as a sure means. Many a woman in need of more money has almost instinctively turned to milking cows and keeping hens.

Is Ancient Proverb

It is true that the expression "Hell is paved with good intentions" appears in Roswell's "Life of Johnson" as coming from that scholar. But, it was a proverb in Germany centuries before the time of Samuel Johnson. It also appears, in various forms, in the literature of France, Italy and Portugal written during the Middle Ages.—Pathfinder Magazine.

ST. CLOUD TAKES STOCK OF ITS DEPARTMENTS

ST. CLOUD is engaged in a complete check-up of all its departments. The first to be inventoried is its fire department. It is to be gone about in the most thorough manner.

While recently conferring with Commissioner of Public Safety J. M. Clancy of St. Paul, Mayor Benson was able to secure the services of Captain John A. Nelson of the St. Paul fire department.

Captain Nelson, according to the St. Cloud Daily Journal-Press, will check over all apparatus of the St. Cloud fire department and the fire houses, as well as inspect all equipment. He will make an intensive study of the equipment needs of the city and make recommendations. He will also inspect hydrants and pressure tests, and the present alarm system.

In addition, the captain stays at the fire barn during his check-up and makes all runs with the department. Of course, this will give him an intimate, first hand view as to St. Cloud's methods in fighting fires. He will report on the competency of every member in the department.

This last point is a most interesting one. Many towns have had check-ups of their equipment, but nobody, so far as we know, has ever given the men an inspection.

The fire department of St. Cloud is the first of its various departments to receive a thorough check-up. There is no reason for any one given examination, according to the mayor, and no charges of inefficiency have been made. It was deemed advisable, however, due to the growth of the city during the past few years, to completely analyze the city departments, to find out whether or not they are keeping pace with the added demands upon them.

COOLIDGE'S TRIBUTE TO LINCOLN

WHEN President Coolidge was governor of Massachusetts in 1919 he issued a proclamation asking Lincoln Day be observed, and paid this eloquent tribute to the martyr president.

'Five score and ten years ago that Divine Providence, which infinite repetition has made only the more a miracle, sent into the world a new life, destined to save a nation. No star, no sign, foretold his coming. About his cradle all was poor and mean save only the source of all great men, the love of a wonderful woman.

When she faded away in his tender years, from her deathbed in humble poverty she dowered her son with greatness. There can be no proper observance of a birthday which forgets the mother. Into his origin, as into his life, men long have looked and wondered. In wisdom great, but in humility greater, in justice strong, but in compassion stronger, he became a leader of men by being a follower of the truth. He overcame evil with good. His presence filled the nation. He broke the might of oppression. He restored a race to its birthright. His mortal frame has vanished, but his spirit increases with the increasing years, the richest legacy of the greatest century.

Men show by what they worship what they are. It is no accident that before the great example of American manhood our people stand with respect and reverence. And in accordance with this sentiment our laws have provided for a formal recognition of the birthday of Abraham Lincoln; for in him is revealed our ideal, the hope of our country fulfilled.

WE WANT GOOD ROADS

We all want good roads and at the same time retrenchment and reform in state expenditures, is the way the Hopkins Enterprise sums up the situation. As the Enterprise sees it, the majority of our people are either car owners or passengers in automobiles that must travel over our state highways, and to put a stop to the highway program that has been laid out by our efficient public road officials, the establishment, grading and paving of Minnesota's trunk highway system, is not the wish of the majority. They want the good roads.

Minnesota's tax is less than the average paid the country over, and with gasoline tax added will be less than a personal property tax would be under the old system of taxation. Let us think well before we take a backward step in our highway construction. In these days of progress, it is the road that makes the state, and we all want good roads.

WARM WEATHER NO AID TO MINNESOTA IN WINTER

CONTINUED warm weather in Minnesota's crop sections is viewed askance by the farmers. It may cause the sap to run in fruit trees, and alternate warmth and freezing can ultimately check or crack a tree trunk and ruin the tree.

Warm weather reduces the snow mantle protecting winter grains. Obliteration of the snow covering endangers winter rye, winter wheat, alfalfa, etc.

No, in the interests of agriculture, give us a regular winter with snow and approved cold weather, even if it does make a run on our coal bin.

THIS story is going the rounds. A Pennsylvania paper, just the day before the reputed end of the world was due, urged all the folks who owed it money to "come across," saying if the world was to end that night the editor did not want to run all over hell to make his collections.

THERE are times when Paris fashions are not supreme. The long skirt failed to become popular in American, and for the third successive season the Paris picture hat has also gone on the rocks. Women with bobbed hair do not care to wear large hats.

HUNDREDS of men die unseen, but when the hand of publicity records the terrible plight of Floyd Collins, imprisoned in a cave at Sand Cave, Kentucky, a nation becomes interested and a state superintends his rescue.

THE Milford mine on the Cuyuna iron range was closed all day Thursday in respect for the 41 miners who lost their lives there a year ago.

WRESTLERS have found out how to break away from "Strangler" Lewis' dangerous headlock. They toss him out of the ring.

MINNESOTA BOASTS 10,000 LADY FARMERS

Minnesota boasts 10,000 lady farmers, according to data analyzed by the Blue Valley Creamery Institute. Of this number over 6,000 operate farms, 5,000 their own, 11 as managers and not quite 40 as tenants, the data disclosed.

Dairying, poultry and hog raising are some of the branches of agriculture in which the women farmers of the state specialize, the analysis revealed. The land under cultivation by the feminine agriculturists is close to 850,000 acres, of which 580,000 acres are improved. The value of these farms is 90 million dollars. The figures further revealed that women cultivate 3.1 per cent of all farms in the state and 2.8 per cent of the total acreage, the value being 2.7 per cent of the whole. The average value of the land and buildings on farms operated by women was found to be in excess of $16,000.

Commenting on the large percentage of women who go in for dairying and poultry raising, the Institute sees a peculiar adaptation of these occupations to the feminine nature. From early times, it says, the average farm woman has had to care for the milk and act as dairy-maid, too. And milking cows and selling butterfat with its requirements of close attention to details seems to be a type of work that woman naturally takes to. The same appears to hold true for poultry raising. For pin money for the household and one item needed in the home, the sale of eggs and poultry and cream has ever been known as a sure means. Many a woman in need of more money has almost instinctively turned to milking cows and keeping hens.

Is Ancient Proverb

It is true that the expression "Hell is paved with good intentions" appears in Boswell's "Life of Johnson" as coming from that scholar. But it was a proverb in Germany centuries before the time of Samuel Johnson. It also appears, in various forms, in the literature of France, Italy and Portugal written during the Middle Ages.—Pathfinder Magazine.

KELLOGG DINNER IS ATTENDED BY KING AND QUEEN

London, Feb. 9.—Ambassador and Mrs. Frank B. Kellogg were peculiarly honored Friday night by the presence of the king and queen as guests at a dinner at Crewe house, the American ambassador's residence.

This was the first time in several years that their majesties have attended a formal dinner at the home of any foreign diplomat.

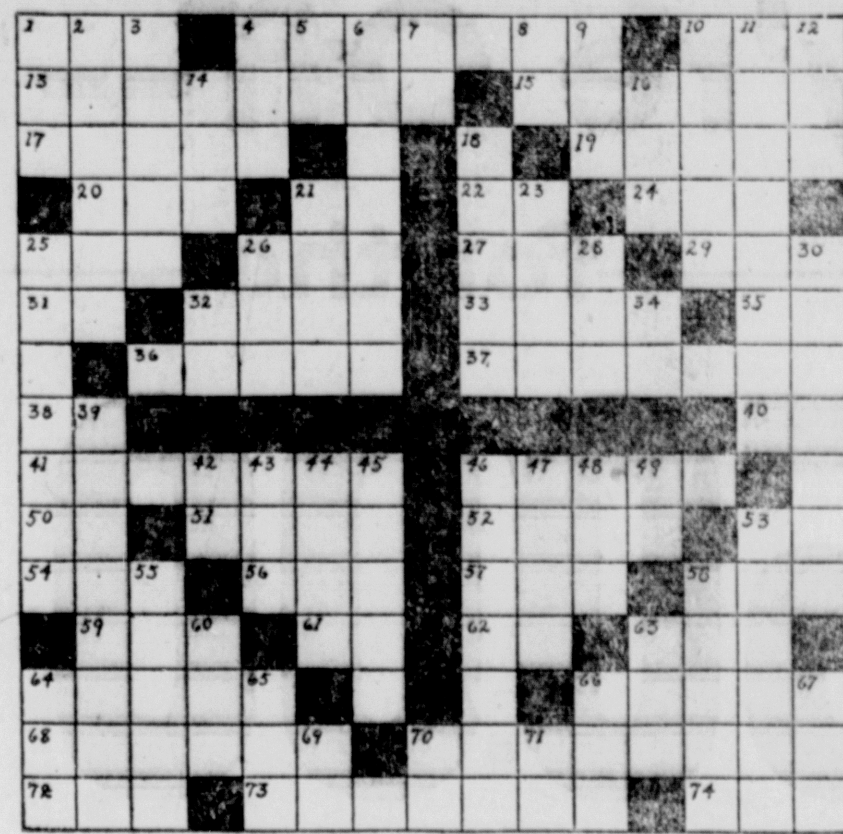

Among the 32 guests, besides the king and queen, were Prime Minister Stanley Baldwin and wife, and the Archbishop of Canterbury and wife. Two distinguished Americans came from the continent to be present, Myron T. Herrick, American ambassador to France, and S. P. Gilbert, the youthful agent-general for reparations.

Ambassador and Mrs. Kellogg will be guests of Lady Astor at a formal reception on Feb. 16.

Claims Record Hog

Georgia claims the largest hog butchered in 1924-25 season. S. W. Herring, a farmer near Bowdon, Ga., killed a two-year-old hog which dressed 1,950 pounds.

Both Must Be Paid

It is just as essential to the public that we pay fair wages for the use of the dollars invested in our property as it is to pay fair wages to our employees.

We cannot keep capable employees if we do not pay fair wages. And we cannot get the new money we need each year from investors to make improvements and extensions if we do not pay all expenses and earn a fair return.

In order to extend and develop our system to meet the demands of the public for service, this company must obtain millions of dollars from investors each year.

It is to the public's interest, as well as to the interest of the employee and the investor, that the telephone company be prosperous.

Romance

You often hear people refer to the "dear old days of romance"—to the time when knight-errants roamed the earth to do honor to a lady's blue eyes.

These folks say we are living in an age of realism!

An age of "realism" where the human voice is hurled across the world without wires; where the temperature of Mars is taken more than thirty millions of miles away; where tons of steel and people ride easily and safely through the air or under the sea!

An age of realism! Why, this is the most romantic of all ages!

The advertising columns of this paper are full of romance—of the romance of men who have devoted their lives to bringing new comforts, conveniences and pleasures for mankind.

Advertisements tell these stories, not with the romantic exaggeration of a jongleur, but with the calm, simple words of sincerity. Here is a firm that spent millions to develop a product that makes your baby comfortable. Here is a company that has labored fifty years to cut a single hour of toil from your day's work. Here is a man who has searched the Seven Seas to produce a new flavor for your dinner.

Romance—this age is full of it. Not just empty romance, but the true romance of achievement, of progress, of the betterment of mankind.

Advertisements tell you what the romance of business is doing for you. Read them

KELLOGG DINNER IS ATTENDED BY
KING AND QUEEN

London, Feb. 9.—Ambassador and Mrs. Frank B. Kellogg were peculiarly honored Friday night by the presence of the king and queen as guests at a dinner at Crewe house, the American ambassador's residence.

This was the first time in several years that their majesties have attended a formal dinner at the home of any foreign diplomat.

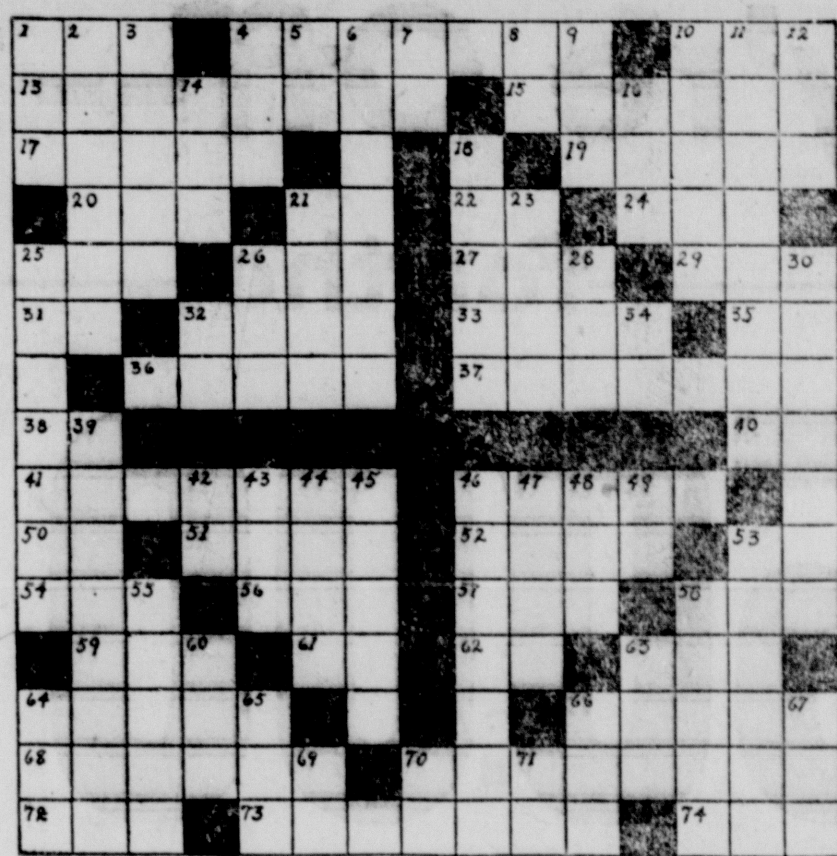

Among the 32 guests, besides the king and queen, were Prime Minister Stanley Baldwin and wife, and the Archbishop of Canterbury and wife. Two distinguished Americans came from the continent to be present, Myron T. Herrick, American ambassador to France, and S. P. Gilbert, the youthful agent-general for reparations.

Ambassador and Mrs. Kellogg will be guests of Lady Astor at a formal reception on Feb. 16.

Both Must Be Paid

It is just as essential to the public that we pay fair wages for the use of the dollars invested in our property as it is to pay fair wages to our employees.

We cannot keep capable employees if we do not pay fair wages. And we cannot get the new money we need each year from investors to make improvements and extensions if we do not pay all expenses and earn a fair return.

In order to extend and develop our system to meet the demands of the public for service, this company must obtain millions of dollars from investors each year.

It is to the public's interest, as well as to the interest of the employee and the investor, that the telephone company be prosperous.

Romance

You often hear people refer to the "dear old days of romance"—to the time when knight-errants roamed the earth to do honor to a lady's blue eyes.

These folks say we are living in an age of realism!

An age of "realism" where the human voice is hurled across the world without wires; where the temperature of Mars is taken more than thirty millions of miles away; where tons of steel and people, ride easily and safely through the air or under the sea!

An age of realism! Why, this is the most romantic of all ages!

The advertising columns of this paper are full of romance—of the romance of men who have devoted their lives to bringing new comforts, conveniences and pleasures for mankind.

Advertisements tell these stories, not with the romantic exaggeration of a jongleur, but with the calm, simple words of sincerity. Here is a firm that spent millions to develop a product that makes your baby comfortable. Here is a company that has labored fifty years to cut a single hour of toil from your day's work. Here is a man who has searched the Seven Seas to produce a new flavor for your dinner.

Romance—this age is full of it. Not just empty romance, but the true romance of achievement, of progress, of the betterment of mankind.

Advertisements tell you what the romance of business is doing for you. Read them

AVERAGE CITIZEN PAID BULK OF INCOME TAXES

INTERESTING FIGURES COMPILED FROM RETURNS

EXEMPTIONS OF INCOME OF INDIVIDUALS NEARLY $15,000,000

(By United Press)
Washington, Feb. 9.—Your share of the income tax, whether or not you paid it last year on your 1922 income, was $7.86.

Of course, if you were among the lucky 6.2 per cent of the nation's population filing returns, you paid more. The average for the 6,787,481 returns filed was: Income, $3,143; tax, $127, according to treasury department statistics just issued.

Individuals paid total taxes of $861,057,308 on income aggregating $21,336,212,530—an increase of 1.88 per cent in the number of returns, 8.98 per cent in the taxable income, and 19.69 per cent in the total tax, as compared with the previous year.

The corporation income returns told a sad tale. Nine out of every 20 failed to make enough money to pay income taxes, assuming the figures are true. Corporations reporting totalled 382,883, and 212,535 of them paid in $783, 776,268 on taxable incomes aggregating $6,963,811,142. The others didn't have any taxable incomes, at least said they didn't.

The total income tax revenue was $1,636,367,462.

Sixty-seven individuals reported incomes of more than $1,000,000 a year, of whom four reported more than $5,000,000 each.

These multimillionaires don't pay for the government's expenses, however, because there aren't enough of them. The statistics show that 67 per cent of the returns and 41 per cent of the taxable income was reported in the returns of between $1,000 and $3,000 a year.

The individuals reporting between $3,000 and $10,000 taxable made up 23 per cent of the total number, and 33 per cent of the taxable income.

In actual money paid to the government, however, those with incomes from $5,000 to $100,000 paid more than $463,000,000, or 54 per cent of the total revenue.

Bachelors turned in 1,823,535 returns, more than one-fourth of the total, but paid only about $142,000,000, one sixth of the total tax. Spinsters and widows paid $68,000,000, about one sixteenth of the total.

The major part of the revenue from individuals came from heads of families, and married men and women.

Exemptions of income of individuals, however, totalled $14,909,329,482, or two and one-half times the taxed income.

The total income reported, therefore, was $21,336,212,530, from is

RECIPE TO CLEAR A PIMPLY SKIN

Pimples are Impurities Seeking An Outlet Through Skin Pores

Pimples, sores and boils usually result from toxins, poisons and impurities which are generated in the bowels and then absorbed into the blood through the very ducts which should absorb only nourishment to sustain the body.

It is the function of the kidneys to filter impurities from the blood and cast them out in the form of urine, but in many instances the bowels create more toxins and impurities than the kidneys can eliminate; then the blood uses the skin pores as the next best means of getting rid of these impurities, which often break out all over the skin in the form of pimples.

The surest way to clear the skin of these eruptions, says a noted authority, is to get from any pharmacy about four ounces of Jad Salts and take a tablespoonful in a glass of water each morning before breakfast for one week. This will help prevent the formation of toxins in the bowels. It also stimulates the kidneys, thus coaxing them to filter the blood of impurities and clearing the skin of pimples.

Jad Salts is inexpensive, and is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia. Here you have a pleasant, effervescent drink which usually helps make pimples disappear.—Adv't.

derived the average return of $3,143.

Interesting rises and falls of wealth in recent years shown in a list of 436 individuals all of whom reported incomes of more than $300,000 a year. In 1916, the year before the war, the 436 had total net incomes of 292 million dollars; in 1917, 264 millions; in 1918, 209 millions; in 1919, 215 millions; in 1920 169 millions; in 1921, 147 millions; in 1922, 310 millions. These figures indicate that the surtaxes on higher incomes are increased, as they were in 1919-21, the amount of income reported decreases.

COMB SAGE TEA INTO GRAY HAIR

Darkens Beautifully and Restores Its Natural Color and Lustre at Once

Common garden sage brewed into a heavy tea, with sulphur and alcohol added, will turn gray, streaked and faded hair beautifully dark and luxuriant. Mixing the Sage Tea and Sulphur recipe at home, though, is troublesome. An easier way is to get the ready-to-use preparation improved by the addition of other ingredients a large bottle, at little cost, at drug stores, known as "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," thus avoiding a lot of fuss.

While gray, faded hair is not sinful, we all desire to retain our youthful appearance and attractiveness. By darkening your hair with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound, no one can tell, because it does it so naturally, so evenly. You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning all gray hairs have disappeared. After another application or two your hair becomes beautifully dark, glossy, soft and luxuriant and you appear years younger.—Adv't.

The Spirit of Service and Good-will

President Dubois of the Western Electric Company recently addressed 40,000 employees of his Company by radio as follows:

"Today we work in larger groups than our forefathers, because no one person and no small group can design and make and assemble and test and finally sell our finished product—the product which makes neighbors of a hundred million of our fellow citizens.

"In the great scheme of modern life, you and I are doing our full part. We are not parasites nor slackers. We are useful people. That alone makes our lives worth while.

"And because the work of each of us depends upon the skill and faithfulness of others, none of us can be sufficient to himself."

The words of President Dubois might have been chosen specifically to apply to the Standard Oil Company (Indiana).

This Company is organized into a big group, because no small group can handle the business of oil products on the vast scale which is required by our complex civilization.

Only a large oil company can produce and distribute gasoline and lubricating oils which penetrate to the most remote parts of the Middle West in such a way as to make possible the circulation of the millions of automobiles.

The Standard Oil Company (Indiana) is an essential part of the great scheme of modern life. Its experienced and trained personnel is of incalculable value to the community. The spirit of service and good-will which inspires every employee from the executive to the man at the furthest flung service station, is an important asset to society.

And because the service of the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) is performed with enthusiasm, energy and efficiency, the wheels of hundreds of other industries are kept running productively to serve the nation as a whole. For this Company is an essential cog in the machinery of civilization.

The Spirit of Service and Good-will

President Dubois of the Western Electric Company recently addressed 40,000 employees of his Company by radio as follows:

"Today we work in larger groups than our forefathers, because no one person and no small group can design and make and assemble and test and finally sell our finished product—the product which makes neighbors of a hundred million of our fellow citizens.

"In the great scheme of modern life, you and I are doing our full part. We are not parasites nor slackers. We are useful people. That alone makes our lives worth while.

"And because the work of each of us depends upon the skill and faithfulness of others, none of us can be sufficient to himself."

The words of President Dubois might have been chosen specifically to apply to the Standard Oil Company (Indiana).

This Company is organized into a big group, because no small group can handle the business of oil products on the vast scale which is required by our complex civilization.

Only a large oil company can produce and distribute gasoline and lubricating oils which penetrate to the most remote parts of the Middle West in such a way as to make possible the circulation of the millions of automobiles.

The Standard Oil Company (Indiana) is an essential part of the great scheme of modern life. Its experienced and trained personnel is of incalculable value to the community. The spirit of service and good-will which inspires every employee from the executive to the man at the furthest flung service station, is an important asset to society.

And because the service of the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) is performed with enthusiasm, energy and efficiency, the wheels of hundreds of other industries are kept running productively to serve the nation as a whole. For this Company is an essential cog in the machinery of civilization.

Met Saturday Afternoon at the Home of Mrs. A. J. Hayes, Mrs. Gaskill Leader

The Kappa Delphians have a boxing acquaintance with several of the earliest gods and goddesses as was attested Saturday afternoon at the home of Mrs. A. J. Hayes. While the text reports were met with considerable levity, the members all agreed that the 'lighted candles' of these early myths shine down through the ages and give an insight into the mind of the earliest man in the making.

Whether it was the excellent leader, Mrs. Gaskill, or a growing power among the members or perhaps both combined—the 'last meeting' always seems to leave a feeling of worth-while-ness in the minds of those present—this one particularly so. The meeting, February 21, will be led by Miss Anna LeMay and the subject is a continuation of the study of the early Greek myths as a basis of literary and artistic appreciation.

CHILD LABOR LECTURE HAS BEEN POSTPONED

On account of the badly worn condition of the slides on child labor it has been thought best to postpone the meeting scheduled for this Monday at the Chamber of Commerce.

NO NOMINATIONS MADE ON SUNDAY

Meeting Called at Gardner Hall Disbands Without Accomplishing Avowed Purpose

75 PEOPLE ATTENDED

H. J. Bouchard Called Meeting to Order and Was Reticent About "Committee"

The meeting called on Sunday afternoon in Gardner hall to nominate a mayor and other city officials, disbanded without accomplishing that purpose. Those who attended, about 75 in number, walked out while the meeting was in progress, against the protests of the chairman.

H. J. Bouchard called the meeting to order and with his brother and a young lady as pianist, were the only ones on the stage. The young lady, Miss Van Epps, rendered several musical selections, and Mr. Bouchard delivered a very eloquent address on the necessity of placing good, responsible men in office.

The speaker stated that he represented a committee, whose names he was not at liberty to divulge, and under whose auspices the meeting had been called. A circle of chairs had been arranged on each side of the hall, which Mr. Bouchard said were for citizens committees, to be named by the meeting, to gather and select opposing candidates. He then asked for nominations on these committees.

Many in the audience were not satisfied with the explanations given by the chairman, and asked him many questions as to the purpose of the meeting. Mr. Bouchard, while he refused to give the names of the committee behind the calling of the meeting, said that no slate had been prepared and that those who had been responsible for the calling of the meeting had no "ax to grind." He said that he did not care what citizens were nominated, the only purpose being to make a selection of nominees for the coming city election, and that there were no reflection on the present administration.

On further questioning, Mr. Bouchard stated that he was not a taxpayer in Brainerd, had come to the city about two years ago, and was employed in the car shops in the local Northern Pacific shops.

When the audience found that the meeting was not for the purpose of putting forward any particular ticket, the members started to disband. Mr. Bouchard went to the door and tried to persuade them to stay, but after several unsuccessful attempts gave it up, and the meeting closed without naming any nominees for the city offices.

It could not be learned whether the promoter of the plan was its originator, with only the idea of assisting in placing a city ticket before the voters, or whether he represented some faction that wished to place candidates in the field.

Mr. Bouchard stated to some of those present that he had assisted in a similar way in a number of cities in Wisconsin, and thought that his plan would perhaps be as well received in Brainerd.

Whether, or not, another attempt will be made to hold a meeting of a similar nature, could not be learned, but if one is held, it will no doubt draw a much larger attendance than did Sunday's gathering.

DR. F. A. BENNETT DIED SUDDENLY

Former Brainerd Physician Passed Away at His Home in Auburn New York

SUCCUMBED TO FLU TROUBLE

Family Have Host of Friends in Brainerd Mourning His Demise

Telegrams received by relatives in Brainerd are to the effect that Dr. F. A. Bennett, a former Brainerd physician, died suddenly at 5 o'clock this morning at his home in Auburn, New York. For several days he had been suffering from intestinal trouble and relatives were notified last Friday that he was seriously ill.

Dr. Bennett married a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. J. Reilly, now of Detroit, Minn., and for a time was a physician on the staff of the Northern Pacific railway sanatorium here. He leaves a wife and two children, Dan, age 7 and Barbara age 2. He was about 33 years of age, of a kindly and generous disposition and was beloved by a large circle of friends.

Further Advice Regarding Death

A telegram from Auburn, N. Y., was received this morning by Mrs. H. P. Dunn, stating that Dr. Francis A. Bennett, of that city had passed away at 5 A. M. Dr. Bennett was a member of the N. P. hospital staff at Brainerd about twelve years ago. He was married in Brainerd on July 12, 1913, to Katherine L. Reilly, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. J. Reilly, now of Detroit, Minnesota. Dr. and Mrs. Bennett, later moved to Auburn, N. Y., where they have since lived. He was an orthopedic specialist and was chief surgeon of the City and Mercy hospitals of Auburn at the time of his death.

Word was received last Friday that he had been ill for several days with a form of intestinal flu. He recovered sufficiently to direct a serious operation, then was again confined to his bed. The telegram stated that the specialist from Syracuse, in conference with the Auburn doctors, said that it was not a surgical case, but seemed to be a relapse of his former illness. Mrs. M. J. Reilly, of Detroit, Minn., and Mrs. H. A. Baker, of Okmulgee, Okla., mother and sister of Mrs. Bennett, were with her, having left for Auburn on Friday. M. J. Reilly and H. P. Dunn left Little Falls on Sunday evening and will probably reach there tonight. Dr. Bennett leaves to mourn his loss, his wife, Katherine L., a son, Daniel Reilly, and daughter, Barbara Ann. The family have hosts of friends in Brainerd who sincerely mourn the loss of such a splendid type of manhood. Dr. Bennett was one of nature's genuine noble-hearted men.

No word has been received of funeral arrangements as yet, but further mention will be made in these columns.

NO NOMINATIONS MADE ON SUNDAY

Meeting Called at Gardner Hall Disbands Without Accomplishing Avowed Purpose

75 PEOPLE ATTENDED

H. J. Bouchard Called Meeting to Order and Was Reticent About "Committee"

The meeting called on Sunday afternoon in Gardner hall to nominate a mayor and other city officials, disbanded without accomplishing that purpose. Those who attended, about 75 in number, walked out while the meeting was in progress, against the protests of the chairman.

H. J. Bouchard called the meeting to order and with his brother and a young lady as pianist, were the only ones on the stage. The young lady, Miss Van Epps, rendered several musical selections, and Mr. Bouchard delivered a very eloquent address on the necessity of placing good, responsible men in office.

The speaker stated that he represented a committee, whose names he was not at liberty to divulge, and under whose auspices the meeting had been called. A circle of chairs had been arranged on each side of the hall, which Mr. Bouchard said were for citizens committees, to be named by the meeting, to gather and select opposing candidates. He then asked for nominations on these committees.

Many in the audience were not satisfied with the explanations given by the chairman, and asked him many questions as to the purpose of the meeting. Mr. Bouchard, while he refused to give the names of the committee behind the calling of the meeting, said that no slate had been prepared and that those who had been responsible for the calling of the meeting had no "ax to grind." He said that he did not care what citizens were nominated, the only purpose being to make a selection of nominees for the coming city election, and that there were no reflections on the present administration.

On further questioning, Mr. Bouchard stated that he was not a taxpayer in Brainerd, had come to the city about two years ago, and was employed in the car shops in the local Northern Pacific shops.

When the audience found that the meeting was not for the purpose of putting forward any particular ticket, the members started to disband. Mr. Bouchard went to the door and tried to persuade them to stay, but after several unsuccessful attempts gave it up, and the meeting closed without naming any nominees for the city offices.

It could not be learned whether the promoter of the plan was its originator, with only the idea of assisting in placing a city ticket before the voters, or whether he represented some faction that wished to place candidates in the field.

Mr. Bouchard stated to some of those present that he had assisted in a similar way in a number of cities in Wisconsin, and thought that his plan would perhaps be as well received in Brainerd.

Whether or not another attempt will be made to hold a meeting of a similar nature, could not be learned, but if one is held, it will no doubt draw a much larger attendance than did Sunday's gathering.

D. F. A. BENNETT DIED SUDDENLY

Former Brainerd Physician Passed Away at His Home in Auburn New York

SUCCUMBED TO FLU TROUBLE
Family Have Host of Friends in Brainerd Mourning His Demise

Telegrams received by relatives in Brainerd are to the effect that Dr. F. A. Bennett, a former Brainerd physician, died suddenly at 5 o'clock this morning at his home in Auburn, New York. For several days he had been suffering from intestinal trouble and relatives were notified last Friday that he was seriously ill.

Dr. Bennett married a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. J. Reilly, now of Detroit, Minn., and for a time was a physician on the staff of the Northern Pacific railway sanatorium here. He leaves a wife and two children, Dan, age 7 and Barbara age 2. He was about 33 years of age, of a kindly and generous disposition and was beloved by a large circle of friends.

Further Advice Regarding Death

A telegram from Auburn, N. Y., was received this morning by Mrs. H. P. Dunn, stating that Dr. Francis A. Bennett, of that city had passed away at 5 A. M. Dr. Bennett was a member of the N. P. hospital staff at Brainerd about twelve years ago. He was married in Brainerd on July 12, 1913, to Katherine L. Reilly, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. J. Reilly, now of Detroit, Minnesota. Dr. and Mrs. Bennett, later moved to Auburn, N. Y., where they have since lived. He was an orthopedic specialist and was chief surgeon of the City and Mercy hospitals of Auburn at the time of his death.

Word was received last Friday that he had been ill for several days with a form of intestinal flu. He recovered sufficiently to direct a serious operation, then was again confined to his bed. The telegram stated that the specialist from Syracuse, in conference with the Auburn doctors, said that it was not a surgical case, but seemed to be a relapse of his former illness. Mrs. M. J. Reilly, of Detroit, Minn., and Mrs. H. A. Baker, of Okmulgee, Okla., mother and sister of Mrs. Bennett, were with her, having left for Auburn on Friday. M. J. Reilly and H. P. Dunn left Little Falls on Sunday evening and will probably reach there tonight. Dr. Bennett leaves to mourn his loss, his wife, Katherine L., a son, Daniel Reilly, and daughter, Barbara Ann. The family have hosts of friends in Brainerd who sincerely mourn the loss of such a splendid type of manhood. Dr. Bennett was one of nature's genuine noble-hearted men.

No word has been received of funeral arrangements as yet, but further mention will be made in these columns.

DUNDEE CASE BRINGS UP BOXING PROBLEM

By HENRY L. FARRELL
(United Press Sports Editor)

New York, Feb. 9.—Johnny Dundee, former world's featherweight champion, is barred from boxing in seventeen states by the act of the National Boxing Association in suspending him on the complaint of the French Boxing Federation that he had broken a contract with Paris promoters to meet Fred Bretonnel, a French welterweight.

Dundee cannot box in the seventeen states that are members of the National Boxing Association—if the members all live up to their agreement. The suspension means nothing to Dundee as long as he is allowed to fight in New York, New Jersey, Massachusetts and California. Although it is practically a gesture of discipline, it brings up an interesting point that does not concern whether Dundee was guilty or not.

What right has the National Boxing Association to suspend any boxer? It has no legal authority and no recognized jurisdiction. What right, also, has the National Boxing Association to punish Dundee without giving him a hearing?

Unless the National Boxing Association had been given more details of the Dundee case than was offered to the New York Boxing Commission, Dundee was suspended merely because the French Boxing Federation had suspended him.

When the case first came up, the New York Boxing Commission said it would not take any action until it had been acquainted with all the facts. All the information that could be obtained from Paris came in cabled despatches and in the bare announcement from the French Federation that Dundee had been suspended.

The attempt to discipline Dundee made by the association brings the first real test of the strength of an organization that has been seeking to control boxing in the United States. There is no doubt that the idea behind the attempt to control the game is a lofty one and that the few brave men who are fighting against heavy odds are actuated by the best motives. But the idea is not a practical one.

Boxing can be controlled only when there is legal authority for that control and supervision. Boxing in individual states can be controlled by state commissions appointed in accordance with the law or in cities by commissions legalized by home rule acts or city ordinances. National control of boxing cannot be established without some sort of a legal excuse.

If the commissions in charge of boxing in every state of the Union were to get together and approve of a national body, the national association could function. But that could be brought about only by a uniformity of the laws in each member state of the association or by a Congressional law. It would be impractical of accomplishment either way.

Two words which are used extensively in Rafael Sabatini's popular novel, "Captain Blood," which will be shown at the New Park last night, are frequently used as synonyms, although there is quite a shade difference in meaning. The words are pirate and buccaneer.

The story deals with the adventures of Peter Blood as a pirate after he had been condemned by the cruel King James as a slave to the Barbadoes. Its coolness and mellow "body" are a revelation to pipe smokers

Back about 1870, James N. Wellman developed a secret tobacco process which won instant and widespread favor. It yielded a fuller-bodied richness, mildness and fragrance which just seemed to "go" with a pipe. No one else ever knew his secret until we acquired "Wellman's Method" and by its means made "Granger Rough Cut"
